

HOPE OF RECORD
LOST, BUT WORLD
FLIERS PRESS ON

"Miss Veedol" and Occupants
Will Continue Toward
Alaska

WEATHER IS "THICK"

Encountered Bad Weather
Enroute to Khabarovsk;
Were In Danger

TOKYO, Aug. 4.—Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn declared today that they would continue their journey round the world despite the fact that they had given up hope of beating the record of Post and Gatty, according to a message received in Tokyo from Khabarovsk, Siberia.

The message stated that their plane the "Miss Veedol", had been repaired and that the fliers would continue towards Alaska as soon as the weather permitted. One of the wings of the red monoplane was damaged when the aviators brought her down at Khabarovsk after a thousand-mile passage from Chita in a blinding storm.

The dispatch indicated that then Herndon and Pangborn had not definitely decided to continue to follow the airway blazed by Post and Gatty. It was thought possible that they might make Tokyo on their next hop and proceed to Alaska from this city instead of heading directly from Khabarovsk over the sea of Okhotsk, Kamchatka and the Bering Straits for home.

According to reports, thick weather was prevailing today over the North Pacific.

The "Miss Veedol" arrived at Khabarovsk yesterday at 3:50 p. m., 2:50 a. m., eastern daylight time. She had encountered bad weather all the way from Chita and more than once was in danger of losing her way.

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA, Aug. 4.—For the second time, Reg. L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, flying Texans, declared today that their hopes of flying non-stop from Seattle to Tokyo for a $25,000 prize had evaporated.

After being in the air 26 hours and 33 minutes, the pilots of the "Fort Worth" descended at Weeks Field yesterday. Fog and clouds made it impossible for them to locate their refueling plane, and they landed here after a search.

The ship for which they were hunting, and from which they were to have taken on additional gasoline before proceeding to Nome and thence over the Bering sea, landed at Ruby, Alaska, between Fairbanks and Nome.

Blimp Soars Over Here
Advertising Shoe Firm

A small blimp soared over Bristol today advertising Enna-Jettick shoes, which are sold by Frank Green, in Bristol.

The blimp sailed gracefully over a portion of the borough and then went off in the direction of Trenton, N. J.

This is a novel means of advertising employed by the Enna-Jettick manufacturers and is attracting much attention.

NEWS OF THE WORLD TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Leonard Layton, alias Lowtree, colored, known to Washington, D. C., police as "Lightning Trigger," was captured here early today as a suspect in the murder of a taxicab driver at Washington.

Layton is alleged to have been the leader of a gang of bandits participating in at least three holdups in the national capital. During one of these hold-ups a taxicab driver was killed and three accomplices of Layton named him as the "trigger man."

The Negro was found asleep in a house on Bainbridge street in South Philadelphia and surrounded before he awoke.

DES PLAINES, ILL., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Julius Dreyfuss, president of Aaron J. Dreyfuss, Inc., 20 West 47th street, New York City, diamond merchants, early today reported the loss to bandits of $100,000 in uncut gems. Dreyfuss informed police of this Chicago suburb that he had been held up in a bus between Watertown and Beaver Dam, Wis. He said that after taking the gems the robbers kidnapped him and drove to a point near Des Plaines, where he was released.

CAMP KEMP, MT. GRETN, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's Na-

Royal Air Cadet

The boy Prince Michael, who for a short time was King of Rumania, is pictured in the uniform of the School of Aviation, in which he is enrolled at Bucharest. Accompanied by his father, King Carol, the young air-minded prince recently attended the aviation display at Pipers airport near the Rumanian capital.

Miss Roberts is a graduate of Westtown School, Westtown, Pa., and of the School of Industrial Arts, of Philadelphia, and she is now attending the Academy of Fine Arts, in Philadelphia.

Mr. Spillman is a graduate of the Lehigh University and is connected with the Electric Company in Philadelphia.

The wedding will take place in the near future.

GO TO WILKES BARRE

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Zarr, 209 Cedar street, were Mr. Zarr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Zarr, of Wilkes Barre. George Zarr and son Forrester accompanied their guests to Wilkes Barre, where they will remain for a week's visit.

Mrs. Stella Kemble, of Wheaton, Illinois, will be a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Margerum, of Edgely.

LINDBERGH'S SAFE
AT BAKER LAKE;
HAZARDOUS TRIP

No Radio Communications
For Several Hours; Private Advices Later

TIME IS NOT GIVEN

Today Face One of Hardest
Legs of Their Long
Jaunt

OTTAWA, Canada, August 4.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh have arrived safely at Baker Lake, according to private advices reaching here. The time of the arrival was not given.

OTTAWA, ONT., Aug. 4.—Radio stations over Northern Canada today attempted to communicate with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh, believed to have landed late Monday at Baker Lake.

Efforts to communicate with the Lindbergh plane and the radio station at Baker Lake were fruitless during the night.

The Lindbergh plane's radio was last heard at 2:40 o'clock Monday afternoon but the reception was bad and static conditions later became worse.

Air conditions were improved today and it was believed either the plane or the Baker Lake station would be reached this morning.

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 4.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were believed safe at isolated Baker Lake today, although nothing has been heard of the Tokyo-bound flyer since Monday afternoon.

They left here yesterday at 12:45 p. m. (2:45 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time) for the 375-mile trip to Baker Lake, a tiny settlement with only one woman resident, in Keewatin territory. Their radio transmitter was heard at 2:40 o'clock p. m., but the reception was bad and their location at the time could not be learned. It was believed at the time the transmitter was last heard they were close to Baker Lake.

The radio station here reported it had frequently tried to communicate with the Lindbergh plane and also the radio station at Baker Lake but without success.

No alarm was felt here for the flyers, despite the fact their route lay over desolate country, with scores of lakes dotting vast wastelands of brown and yellow rocks.

The Lindberghs today faced the most hazardous leg of their Canadian flying. They were scheduled to hop from Baker Lake westward toward Aklavik, 1,115 miles away. This section of the far North is without habitation and is frequently storm-torn.

Scouts of Troop 2 On Second Week-End Hike

The second overnight camping trip of the summer program of Troop No. 2 was conducted over the week end under the direction of Scoutmaster, John Healey, with the able help of Assistant Scoutmaster Ford and Deputy Commissioner Neill.

The hikers started from Bristol at 3:30 on Saturday afternoon and returned about 3:30 Sunday afternoon, having experienced many incidents of a serious, humorous and instructive nature during the 24 hours' stay.

All those attending were loud in their praise of Scout Frederick Becker, who, acting in his usual role of cook, provided a menu which would have done credit to any camp chef in the country. The chief surprise was the Seneca Indian dinner, cooked underground and a delicious fruit salad. There were "seconds" for all at every meal and everyone took advantage of this unusual fact, which spoke well for Fred's cooking.

The camp entertained several visitors on Sunday, some of whom were: Mr. and Mrs. James Turner, Mrs. William Fitzgerald, Mr. Harry Ford and Scout Oliver Smith of Troop No. 7. Those attending this second encampment were: Scouts Melvin Cox, Frederick Becker, Francis Abbott, John Fitzgerald, Albert Booz, Albert Burger, Albert Blanche, Raymond Phillips, and Charles Johnston of Troop No. 2, with the troop mascot "Jackie" Henley and his brother Martin; and Scouts Oscar Booz, Tony Sabatini, Wilson Larzelere, Peter Sabatini and James Sabatini of Troop No. 7.

The officers and scouts of Troop No. 2 wish to extend their thanks and appreciation to Mr. Walter Pitonka for his kindness in allowing the use of the camp site, and to Mrs. Pitonka for the many favors extended to the troop while in camp.

These overnight hikes have proven so very popular that it is impossible to take all those who wish to participate, at one time, so all future hikes will be conducted on a strict camporee basis, with a picked patrol of 8 members each time.

ENJOY PLANE RIDE

Janet Banes and Alma Lunheiser, of Edgely, attended the Keystone picnic at Eddington, on Saturday. The two enjoyed an airplane ride, from Eddington to Bristol.

German Bank Czar

Herman Schmitz (above), closely identified with the great chemical industries in Germany, has been named by the German Government to assume control of all German banks in the present crisis. He will be controller of the financial structure of his country, and in his hands will rest the power for drafting plans to harbor the flow of funds from the various banks.

OHIO STATE PROFESSOR
COMING TO FARM SCHOOL

To Succeed Prof. Purmell As Head of Horticultural Department

COLORADO GRADUATE

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 4.—Filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Professor David M. Purmell as head of the horticulture department of the National Farm School, who has purchased his own 230-acre fruit farm at Hopewell, N. J., the office of the Dean today announces the appointment of L. M. Montgomery, head of the horticulture department of Ohio State University, to succeed Professor Purmell.

The new head of the horticulture department will move his family to Farm Schoolland start his duties the last week in August. The selection of Mr. Montgomery to succeed the very efficient regime of Professor Purmell, marks another step in the progress of Farm School.

During Prof. Purmell's period of service at Farm School, the horticulture department progressed considerably. He assisted in planning the horticulture building which together with its equipment, ranks with finest in the country.

"Since I came here, I have seen the school change remarkably for the best," Prof. Purmell said today. "Farm School affords the student a unique training that no other school in the country presents in the same manner, and I am particularly proud to have been able to help train a fine group of boys during my ten years at the school."

Mr. Montgomery, who will succeed Prof. Purmell, graduated from Colorado Agricultural College in 1907 and during his student days was president of his senior class, president of the college Y. M. C. A., and literary editor of the year book. He spent one year at the Oklahoma A. and M. College in the department of horticulture and botany. He later went to Ohio State University as a graduate assistant and received his degree of M. S. in 1910.

Following that Mr. Montgomery became assistant professor in Ohio State University and developed the vegetable course and taught pomology and small fruits. For a number of years he taught landscape gardening and some floriculture, and had charge of the gardens, greenhouses and orchards in addition to teaching.

Mr. Montgomery developed one of the first courses in horticulture products in the United States. He served as secretary of the Columbus Horticultural Society for several years and organized the Ohio State Vegetable Growers' Association and served as secretary for eight years. He prepared the correspondence courses in vegetable gardening for the extension department of Ohio State University and just recently collaborated with others on Dr. Davis' book, "Horticulture and Enterprises."

Two Fire Alarm Boxes
Yet To Be Repaired

Circuits 3 and 4 and the mill district of the fire alarm system is now in working order with the exception of box 45, Grundy's mill and box 48, Corona Leather Works, Beaver street.

This announcement was made today by Fire Chief James L. McGee, who stated that the entire system is now in good working order with the exceptions noted.

The system was considerably disrupted by a recent electrical storm, which played havoc with much of it. Each box has been thoroughly tested and found to be working satisfactorily.

TO HOLD PICNIC

Bible Class 4 of the M. E. Sunday School, will hold a monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Frances Praul, of Emille. The affair will be in the form of a picnic.

TO GATHER DATA
ABOUT DECEASED
SOLDIERS HERE

Sons of Veterans to Compile Record of All Buried
Here

ASKS COOPERATION

Information to be Furnished
Graves Registration
Record

Members of Col. J. M. Gosline Camp No. 28, Sons of Veterans, are going to compile a record of deceased soldiers of wars previous to the late World War. All information of a valuable nature is to be included so that the record will be authentic and complete.

After all of the data has been compiled the information is to be turned over to the Veterans' Grave Registration Record.

Residents in this section are urged to co-operate and furnish whatever information they have. The name of the deceased soldier is required as well as the branch of service he was in, date of service, number of regiment, company or command, rank and period of service.

It is also desired that the cemetery where burial was made be given, along with the place of interment and location, the character of headstone and marker and any other details that might be of interest.

After the information obtained has been recorded in the Veterans' Grave Registration Record it is to be sent to the Adjutant General's office, Harrisburg.

Harry White, 340 Lafayette street, is handling the details for the Sons of Veterans.

Action authorizing the survey was passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1929, as follows:

"The county commissioners of each county in the State are hereby authorized and directed, at the expense of the county, to compile a record of the burial places within such county of soldiers, sailors, marines, and members of the enlisted nurse corps, who served in the military or naval or other branch of the combative forces of the United States during any war in which the United States has been engaged. Such record, so far as practicable, shall indicate the name of each such person, the service in which he or she was engaged, the number of the regiment or company or command, the rank and period of service, the name and location of the cemetery or other place in which his body is interred, the location of the grave in such cemetery or other place, and the character of headstones or other marker, if any, at such grave. Such record shall be transcribed in a book, properly indexed, to be known as the Veterans' Grave Registration Record of _____ County, and shall be a public record, open to inspection during business hours."

Schedule Announced For Those Gathering Flowers

Members of the Bristol Travel Club who this month will take flowers to the Pratt street booth, Frankford, for distribution among the flowerless, are: August 6th, Mrs. Earl Tomb; August 13th, Mrs. Franklin Wills; August 20th, Mrs. Forrest Bilderback; August 27th, Mrs. Theodore Megaree.

Bristol people again responded heartily last week in the plea for "Flowers for the Flowerless," and bouquets, many and gorgeous, were received with enthusiasm.

Benjamin J. Silber
Now Heads Company

Extensive alterations have been made to the offices of the Pennsylvania Finance Company, 202 Jefferson avenue, according to an announcement made today by Benjamin J. Silber.

Mr. Silber has been made president of this Company but will continue his activities with the John Hancock Life Insurance Company, writing both life and general insurance.

In the office renovations made there has been special attention paid to the privacy of the clients of the company. A new private entrance is now opened on the Cedar street side and a number of private rooms have been fitted up for conferences.

Party Is Tendered to Doloras Pedrick, Edgely

EDGELY, Aug. 4.—A party was tendered to Doloras Pedrick at her home, on Radcliffe street, recently by her mother, Mrs. A. Yates, to celebrate her eighteenth birthday. Games were played and prizes awarded. Refreshments were served. Those attending were: Betty Banes, Betty Stradling, Jean MacArthur, Lucy Summers, Edward Anderson and Burden Pedrick, of Edgely, and Florence Boyer of Philadelphia.

Mrs. John DeLia, of Long Island, N. Y., spent last week in Bristol as the guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. Spadaccino, of Cedar street.

Urges Capone Quiz

Evidence brought out in Federal Court, Chicago, when Al Capone, notorious gangster, appeared for sentence before Judge James H. Wilkerson, and hastily asked to withdraw his plea of guilty, will bring about a searching Congressional investigation if Senator Thomas D. Schall (above), of Minnesota, can do anything about it. The blind Senator has demanded all correspondence in the Capone case in advance of urging an exhaustive probe.

DECEASED PASTOR'S FIVE SONS TO OCCUPY PULPIT

To Take Place of Late Father
On Five Successive Sundays At Scranton

OTHER STATE NEWS

SCRANTON, Aug. 4.—Five sons of a late pastor of the Myrtle street Church here will occupy the pulpit of the church on successive Sundays. Rev. J. Clark Callender, of Rozelle, N. J., was the first of the brothers scheduled to preach.

LANCASTER, Pa.—A resolution calling upon Congress to declare a debt holiday for war veterans was approved here by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The resolution proposed that all ex-service men who are in debt and unable to meet demands of creditors be excused for non-payment of the debts, if caused by unemployment, for the period that the international debt holiday is effective for Germany.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A lucky break it was for Julius Schemelowski here when he was tossed out of his home and ordered to stay away. Federal agents raided the house and arrested Julius' sons-in-law for violating the prohibition laws. They shifted blame to Julius. But Julius proved the boys had "flung him out" for mistreating his wife and he had conveyed the property to them as a peace offering. Julius went free. The boys went on bail for trial.

CHARLOTTE, Pa.—William Nahar, resident here, had a birthday anniversary—his 81st—and his sixtieth anniversary as an Odd Fellow, fall on the same day.

Several brother-lodges thought it a good idea to have a surprise party for Nahar and celebrate the double anniversary. Just a few old friends, a few well-worded speeches and that sort of thing.

Came the day for the anniversary but Brother Nahar was not among those present for the party.

His friends hunted him up. "How come?" asked his companions. "Had to work," returned Nahar, "some other time, maybe."

MYERSTOWN, Pa.—An exploring bee, which travelled up the sleeve of John S. Balmed, caused an automobile accident here in which several persons narrowly escaped injury. Attempting to shake the insect out of his sleeve, Balmed lost control of his car, which crashed into a parked car.

CARD PARTY

There will be a card party tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Travel Club Home. This affair is given by the program committee.

KEYSTONE SECURES
A LARGE CONTRACT FOR AMPHIBIANS

Seven Craft Will Be Constructed at Cost of $164,062

TWO-SEATED BIPLANES

Employment of Additional Help Not Required
Is Belief

A contract for construction of seven Keystone-Loening amphibian airplanes at a total cost of $164,062, was awarded by the United States Navy to the Keystone Aircraft Corporation here, it was announced today.

These planes are of the same type as 15 amphibians now being built by the Keystone Company under a previous contract. They are a two-seated biplane type of flying boat.

The Keystone Company continues to receive Government work and while not employing as many men as at the peak of the contract period yet have a good sized force employed.

The receipt of the new contract will not call for the employment of any additional help, it is believed.

Police Conduct Raid
At Rocky Ridge Hotel

QUAKERTOWN, Aug. 4.—Andrew Krout, better known as "Andy" by a large group of road house patrons, was arrested for the second time in recent years when State Police of the Doylestown sub-station raided the Rocky Ridge Hotel, on the Bethlehem pike north of here, this week.

Krout was charged with possessing intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes and was taken to the county prison at Doylestown and lodged there to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. Carlile Hobensack.

The raid was made by Corporal William Francis and Troopers Greblunas and Toy.

An improvised bar is alleged to have been set up in the kitchen of the hotel. No business was being transacted over the old bar in the front of the building.

The officers seized two half-barrels of alleged high-powered beer, one being on tap. A gallon jug partly filled with alleged whiskey, a quart bottle partly filled with a similar liquid, and a quart of gin were found in the bar-kitchen.

Krout was tried in Bucks county for possessing liquor several years ago and served four months in prison at that time following a raid on his place at Meadowbrook along the Bethlehem pike.

Celebrates Birthday As Hostess To Few Friends

Yesterday, Mrs. Fanny Sinsley, of Beaver street, celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary, and last evening, a few folks gathered at her home to celebrate the occasion.

A pleasant evening was spent in a social way and Miss Marjorie Marshall entertained the guests with a number of piano selections and songs.

During the evening the guests were invited to the dining room where a delicious repast was served. The room was attractively decorated with pink and white crepe-paper streamers and a bouquet of cut flowers formed the centerpiece on the table. At a late hour, the guests departed, wishing Mrs. Sinsley many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Sinsley received a number of birthday gifts.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frehe, Mr. and Mrs. Sinsley, Miss Laura Sinsley, Mrs. Jennie Marshall, Miss Marjorie Marshall, Mrs. Lillian Hensor, Mr. H. Sinsley and Mr. J. Genco, of Bristol, and Mrs. R. Scott, of Dover, Del.

LATEST NEWS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Fifteen garages in a row of 47 in the Kensington section of the city were damaged by fire early today. Six automobiles were destroyed but firemen, by frantic efforts, aided by nearby residents, pushed the other cars to safety.

The fire is believed to have started in an office in the center of the row.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Highways near New York and in Connecticut were blocked by trees in many places today, many houses were damaged by lightning and crops were ruined as the result of a violent storm last night. Damage to property is estimated at several hundreds of thousands of dollars. Rain, however, brought cooler weather after a day in which four persons died of the heat and two drowned.

One man died however during the storm after a tree struck his automobile.

UNOSTENTATIOUS WEALTH

Even at the present time, when the value of money has shrunk considerably from what it was a quarter of a century ago, the possession of three million dollars would still appear sufficient to distinguish a man from the crowd as a person of considerable wealth. Yet there was published the other day an account of a business man who lived so quietly and without ostentation that no one outside of a small group of intimate friends realized that what was the extent of his wealth until his death revealed the fact.

The incident is worthy of mention in that it appears to be characteristic of many American millionaires. There is little inclination on the part of many wealthy men for the display that is usually associated with the name of millionaire. They are content with comfortable homes and simple standards of living in consequence they do not attract attention on the score of wealth until the size of their fortunes is disclosed with the filing of their wills.

There are sections of the country in which the possession of money alone contributes less prestige than it does in the newer sections, where vast fortunes have been built almost overnight. And, allowing some conspicuous exceptions, the mushroom millionaires are most apt to advertise their wealth.

BRAVE SOULS

According to the prevailing official and legislative view, the average man or private citizen is a tender being, subject to frequent attacks of nearly every disease to which the body politic is subject. Unless he is carefully guarded and nursed he will turn bolshevik and overthrow the government, or lose all sense of morality and begin the immediate practice of free love.

As a result of this official view, federal and state governments take great pains to see that their subjects are not exposed to infection. Books, magazines, newspapers, speech, drama and the movies are scrutinized and censored and whole platoons of jobholders stand constantly on guard.

Imagine the courage and reckless daring of these shock troops. Theirs is the horrendous and dangerous duty of reading, seeing and hearing all that is suppressed for the good of the rest of the nation. Truly they must bear charmed lives or at least invulnerable opinions and morals. If not, why do they not become mangled with the heinous stuff they censor?

Surely, the man who can come in contact with all this upsetting stuff without so much as committing one single crime against government or morality is a very great man indeed. Were he of common clay, then might it not follow that all censorship is wasted time, effort and money?

Gas makes the world go round.

The only thing wrong with any country is the people.

A new broom may sweep clean, but it always wears out.

The hand that rocks the cradle seldom rolls the cigarette.

Announcement....

Through the efforts of the Russel Sage Foundation of New York and other social agencies, laws have been passed by twenty-five states in our country, regulating the making of loans of $300 or less, to persons who, by reason of some emergency must have financial assistance. The Pennsylvania legislature adopted a similar law in 1915, which was amended in 1919, which enables persons who perchance may not have bank credit, or other source of receiving financial aid, to borrow from regularly licensed loan companies, principally upon their character and earning capacity. Available statistics show that in 1930, companies operating under this law of Pennsylvania and similar laws in other states have loaned approximately $600,000,000. Outstanding among such companies in this community is the Pennsylvania Finance Company of Bucks County, which is located at 202 Jefferson Avenue. Many have watched with interest the growth of this Company, which has been in this section for a number of years, and many are indeed gratified to see the splendid progress we are making.

Benjamin Silber, one of Bristol's leading citizens and residents, has assumed the presidency of the Company and is actively engaged in its management. As a step towards increasing the facilities for service to the people of this community, he has arranged for an enlargement of the Company's offices and personnel. In spite of his many activities in other lines of endeavor, Mr. Silber finds time to personally interview his many friends who seek his advice and assistance. Mr. Silber will continue his activities in insurance matters as before.

Office renovations permit strictly private interviews with prospective clients. Private business entrance on Cedar street.

CHAPTER LVII.
"YES," he replied, "I do. I've nothing to go on except this: If he sees her again, if he realizes that she was herself all along, that the part she played was really, in a way, minor, he'll know. He'll know that it was she he—"

"That's enough. Can one shout in this mansion? If so, call Lorry, ask him to come up here."
"What are you going to do?" demanded Lorry, but starting obediently for the door.

"I'm going to upset an apple cart."
"Well, you've an established precedent in Eve," wisecracked Lorry mechanically. He went to the door, out to the gallery, and leaned over. "Oh, Lorrimer," he shouted, "will you come on up here a moment?"

Back in the bedroom he stared at her. She smiled back at him. "I feel like the chap in Dickens what's-its-name—It's a far far better thing I do," she quoted with gravity, "than I have ever done."

But her eyes were not mocking.

Already Married

Lorrimer arrived in the room, looked from one to the other.

"Want me?" he asked.
"Not permanently," smiled Delight. "I've just been telling Mr. Mitchell that you've asked me to marry you, Lorry. Very decent of you and all that. And I want to tell you before a reliable witness, that a previous engagement keeps me from accepting."

You see, Lorry, a year or so after I had word of your death, I met a man named Harry Blanchard. He was in the same road show. A very good-looking person. He's in Australia now and has been writing me for some time to come out and join him. I don't want to—much—so probably I can't. But he's the reason why I can't marry you, because," she said, "I'm married—to him. And there's a record of that marriage, in Liverpool."

Lorrimer stared at her. He said, after a moment:

"Why didn't you tell me?"
"Because I'm not a very nice person. Harry and I have been separated for a good many years. We got on each other's nerves. Also he's been more or less a rolling stone. No moss but lots of pol. I couldn't see him in tonight in the Australian bush. The last letter I had from him came before I left for the States. He's made good, in a sense. He feels domestic; he urged me to come out. I was half inclined to do so, being on my uppers, but the chance to take a part in this revue came along—and so I did too. Then you arrived on the scene. It was something of a temptation to accept that gallant offer of yours, Lorry; we could have gone through a nice formal engagement, and I rather fancied I could dispose of Harry in the courts quite quietly and with no one being the wiser. But I've decided not to. After all, he wasn't a bad sort, and they say Australia has a beautiful climate."

said Delight, "so I might change my mind about going. I don't notice managers rushing forward with offers in these United States. That's all. Now will you two young men leave me to take a nap? Sista. An old Spanish custom, I believe.

"And Lorry, tell your mother that as soon as I can wiggle this damaged fin of mine I'll move on. She's been awfully kind, really, and I don't want to trespass any longer than I have to." She broke off and looked at Lorrimer, who stood staring at her like a man unable to believe his ears, his face help you all we can. We feel, in a sense, responsible. Please, my dear, don't let foolish, stubborn pride stand in your way. If you decide to go—out to your husband, or if you plan to stay in London and look for an engagement you'll need money. I—I want you to take it from me, as a free gift," she begged.

Well Provided For

"Oh, I'm not proud," Delight denied with a short laugh. "I've borrowed before this—with no inten-

So, in the end, she went back to England.

the mirror of strange and conflicting emotions markedly reflected—anger, relief, gratitude. "Oh, please go," said Delight.

Lorry touched Lorrimer's arm. "Let's step on it, old man," he said, rather low.

Lorrimer let himself be taken to the door, walking like a man in a dream. There Lorry turned and Lorrimer walked on ahead of him. "You're a good brother," said Lorry to Delight.

The Obstacle Removed

A few days later Delight Harford went back to New York. She had had a long talk with Mrs. Lorrimer, in which she had told her a little more fully and much less cynically of her reasons for "coming clean, as they say over here." And Mrs. Lorrimer had listened, finding herself, as is human nature, liking the slangy, careless woman now that she knew all danger from her was past. She herself took her to town and arranged for her brief stay at a hotel—not the shabby one in which Lorry had found her—before the boat sailed for England, upon which Mrs. Lorrimer had procured passage for her.

"I've talked to Travers," she said, during their conversation, "and he feels as I do. We must—" tion of returning it. You may as well know that about me. But in this case I've saved my own face. I'm not being—bought off."

Margaret Lorrimer flushed slightly.

"No, of course you're not." "Then," said Delight, with a sudden, rather charming simplicity, "I'll take whatever you offer me and be glad of it. And gratefully. I'm not a kid. I've been up against it. I don't want to be again. I haven't the stamina somehow to keep on facing life in dingy lodging houses, on very little food and one pair of silk stockings, going the rounds of the agencies. Perhaps, after all, I'll go to Australia. I might make a go of it with Harry, after all," she said, thoughtfully; "We've both been through the mill; we can make allowances for each other."

So, in the end, she went back to England, very comfortably, with the knowledge that, besides money from her pocket, she possessed a very substantial sum in a London bank, which Mrs. Lorrimer had promptly cabled over, enough and more than enough to see her through a long time of waiting, in London, for an engagement; and far more than sufficient to take her to Australia and back again, should she decide to go.

Changes In Hunting Seasons and Bag Limits

The Pennsylvania Board of Game Commissioners at a meeting held July 19, 1931, acting under authority contained in Section 509 of the Act of Assembly approved May 24, 1923, P. L. 359, as amended, made certain changes in seasons and bag limits for the taking of game during the hunting season of 1931. These changes fix the seasons and bag limits for wild turkey, grouse, etc., as follows:

Wild Turkeys. The open season will be November 1 to November 15.

Ruffed Grouse. The daily bag limit is reduced to two, and the season limit to twelve.

Virginia Partridge, commonly called quail, Gambel Quail, Valley Quail. The open season will be November 1 to November 15.

Wild Rabbits. The open season will be November 1 to November 30.

Hares (Snowshoe or Varying). The open season will be November 1 to November 30.

Hungarian Partridges. There will be no open season during 1931.

This notice covers only changes made by the Board. A complete summary of seasons and bag limits will be printed on the back of each hunt-

CINCINNATI TIES RECORD FOR FOURTH SHUT-OUT

By Copeland C. Burg
I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Cincinnati Reds tied an all-time major league record yesterday as they crumpled before the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 0. It was their fourth consecutive shut-out. No team has ever reached the humility of five consecutive horse-collarings, but great things may be expected of the cellar-loving gents of 1931.

George Connally, who would not have been surprised while with the White Sox if they asked him to shine shoes, won a ball game for the Cleveland Indians, defeating the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 3.

The Athletics continued their weary winning, taking two games from the Senators. Grove was too good in the first, snagging it 3 to 2 and in the night cap homers by Simmons, Fox, and Todd added Earnshaw in a 6 to 5 triumph. The A's are now 12 games out in front.

The Boston Red Sox used five pitchers in an effort to beat the New York Yankees but finally threw their hands up in the air and collapsed, 9 to 3. Ten walks helped the Yanks. Combs walking four times. Webb, Boston outfielder who is out to break the Major League two-bagger record, whacked doubles no. 50 and 51.

Red Faber showed his age, folding up before the attack of the Detroit Tigers, who routed the Chicago White Sox 7 to 2. Faber took his shower in the eighth inning after allowing the Tigers to convert seven hits into five runs.

Other teams were idle.

STATE NEWS

PHILADELPHIA—Twenty-three nationalities are represented in the names of the candidates on the 1931 Temple University football squad, according to athletic authorities at the school.

Americans head the list with 12 then come the Irish with 7, English, 5; Swedes and Poles, three each; French and Germans, two each, and one each of the following: Belgian, Austrian, Finn, Scotch, Greek, Italian, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Rumanian, Spanish, Danish, Swiss, Slav, Welsh, Bulgarian and Jewish.

LANSDOWN, Pa.—An offer by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company here to provide work for additional men by introducing a six hour day was rejected unanimously by members of the company's local union here because the move would have reduced wages.

Principal objection to the plan was that it would affect only common labor and skilled mechanics in the company employ would continue on an eight-hour basis.

SCRANTON, Pa.—Sleep, which the eminent Shakespeare declared "knits up the ravelled sleeve of care," just unraveled it for D. L. Kahn, he explained to police here.

Kahn was napping in his shop here when someone entered, rifled his pockets and got away with $27 in cash and two checks for $14 without awakening him.

Edison Much Better;
Smokes and Reads Paper

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 4.—Thomas A. Edison was much improved today.

The inventor who suffered a collapse on Saturday, spent a restful night.

He smoked a cigar last night and remained up until 11 p. m.

66 MILES ON 1
GALLON OF GAS?

Walter Critchlow, 6773 B Street Wheaton, Ill., has patented a new damp air gas saver for autos and engines that saves gas and oil, gives quicker pickup, faster top-speed and automatically de-carbonizes engine.

Fords report 28 to 66 miles on one gallon; other makes ¼ to ½ more.

County and state distributors wanted to make $250 to $750 a month.

One sent for trial. Write him today.

ing the 84-year old inventor, issued a bulletin shortly before midnight, which said:

"This evening Mr. Edison showed encouraging improvement. He spent most of the evening enjoying the company of his family and amusing them with his numerous remarks. He has every prospect for a good night."

Mr. Edison withstood the heat well and indications were he was responding to the constant care of his physicians and rigid adherence to a prescribed diet.

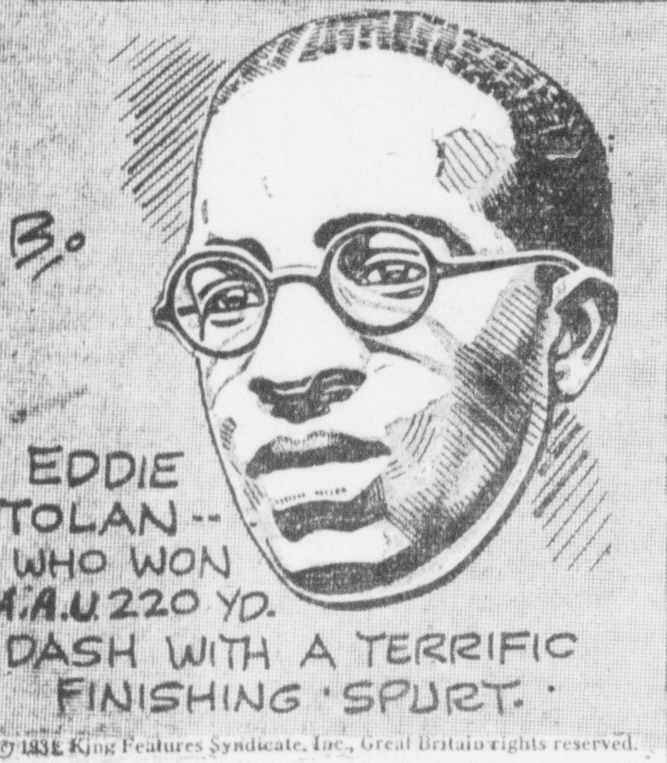

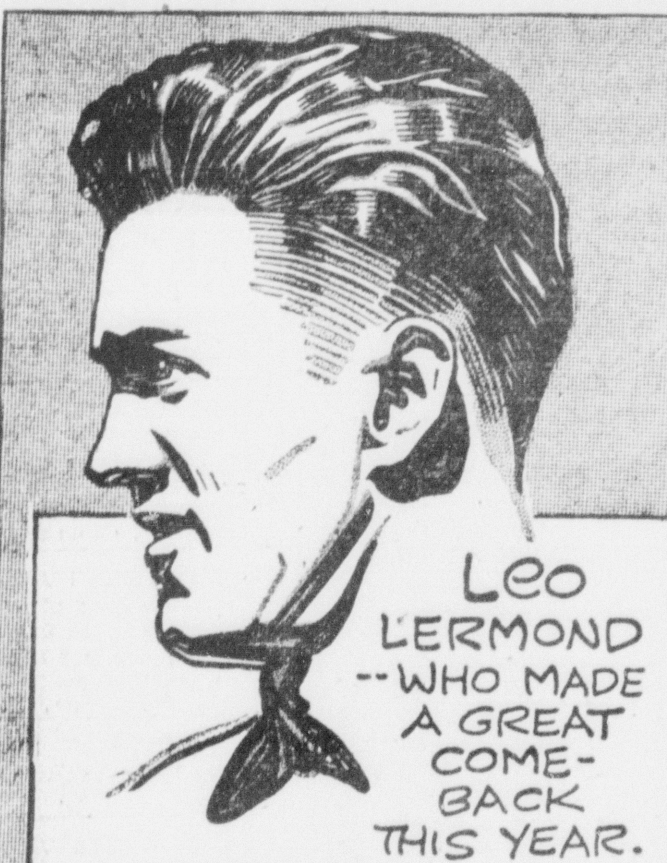

Barnett Bros. Circus
Is Now Motorized

Thousands of children, their fathers, and mothers, their aunts and uncles, and their grandfathers and grandmothers will be all ready to see everything when Barnett Bros. Circus comes to Bristol on Monday, Aug. 10th. The big parade at noon, the flying human butterflies, the unrivaled bareback riders, the unparalleled display of gymnastics, acrobatic and equestrian marvels, the convulsing and mirth-provoking clowns, the thrilling races—these are all promised for that day. The grand free street parade a mile in length will pass over the principal streets at noon and for sumptuous beauty promises to out rival all efforts of former years. There will be red lemonade, and peanuts and all the rest that goes to make up a real circus day. The Barnett Bros. Circus is a clean show. There are no short change artists with this show; they expect to put this town on their regular route, and want to be able to meet the people face to face.

Future Olympic Brilliance

By HARDIN BURNLEY

EMMETT TOPPINO
--LOYOLA'S NEW
SPRINT MARVEL--
NOW TOURING
SOUTH AFRICA!

UNCLE SAM must be smiling these days as his athletic sons (and daughters, too) are showing such excellent ability in field and track sports just a year before the next Olympiad, at which our "Unk" will be host to the world at Los Angeles. As forecast, the Fourth of July A. A. U. games at Lincoln provided further evidence that the U. S. A. has an abundance of the finest sort of Olympic material. Uncle Sam has triumphed in all those quadrennial classics ever since their modern revival in 1896. Next year the U. S. A. should have the strongest athletic team ever assembled.

Of course, Frank Wykoff captured the century at Lincoln with another of those 9.5 dashes, the frequent repetition of which stamps him as the fastest of current humans in the 100-yard dash.

During the Spring, some predictions were made that Eddie Tolan would prove swifter than Wykoff, but in their races since then California's latest comet has all but permanently established his mastery of "Michigan's Midnight Express."

Indeed, Tolan finished third to Wykoff and Emmett Toppino at Lincoln. Toppino, incidentally, is tabbed by many as the man who'll succeed Wykoff as our greatest sprinter. This spinning "Top" is a Loyola University student. For two years he's been threatening the nation's best flashes.

But Tolan was not without glory at Lincoln. He did break the A. A. U. record with a slashing 220-yard victory, and that ebullient squat, heavily muscled and bespectacled—may yet become the world's best at that distance.

Among Lincoln's several luminous feats the most cheering perhaps was the comeback of lion-hearted Leo Lermond. He won the mile event, displaying better form than ever. Uncle Sam is figuring on Lermond among the many who'll run the rest of the world ragged at Los Angeles next year.

The lowest priced Full capacity Completely Automatic Oil Burner

PRICE of the Rightway Oil Burner is indicative of but one thing—the tremendous value you get for your money when you buy a Rightway.

The simplicity of its design enables great manufacturing economies which are reflected in the price to you.

Patented hydraulic super-sensitive controls, which never need adjustment, replace the usual troublesome, service-requiring and costly electric control system.

Over 1000 parts have been eliminated in Rightway which results in a marvelous freedom from service attention.

And finally, the variable flame principle on which it operates, is productive of highest efficiency and economy. Let one of our representatives tell you the complete Rightway story.

Rightway can be installed in a few minutes. Grates are not removed so rubbish can still be burned in the furnace.
